

Curriculum Vitae

Meng Yinghua

Ph.D. in Economics, Professor, Visiting Scholar of University of Washington.

Specializes in service trade, heterogeneity service firms theory, international trade agreements and migrant network.

Taught graduated courses of service trade at the SUIBE (Shanghai University of International Business and Economics).

Published widely in academic and other journals.

Publications and Selected working papers:

- ✧ Producer Service, Input Variation and Chinese Manufacturing Firm's Productivity, working paper
- ✧ Firm's Heterogeneity Traits, Produced Service Agglomeration and Chinese Manufacturing Firm's Productivity, working paper
- ✧ Emigrant Networks and Chinese Firm's Export, Management World, 2015,10:54-64.
- ✧ How Does Infrastructure Affect Service Export Sophistication, World Economy Studies, 2013,12:32-38+85.
- ✧ Complementarity between Cross-Border Trade and Commercial Presence Empirical Analysis on US Bilateral Trade in Service, Journal of International Trade, 2010,10:72-80.
- ✧ Trade in Producer Service and Technology Efficiency of China's Manufacturing, World Economy Studies,2010,07:38-44+88.
- ✧ Economic Laissez-Faire and Regulation Policy in Liberalization of Trade in Service, Nankai Economic Studies, 2009,06:100-111.
- ✧ Empirical Study on Weak-Business Cycle of Trade in Service during Economic Crisis, Economic Management Journal, 2009,11:26-31.

Funds and Projects:

National Social Science Fund 2016, Effects of Regional Service Trade Agreements and its Political Economy Analysis.

Books:

- ✧ Issues of Service Trade's Modal, China Economy Press, 2011, ISBN978-7-5136-0946-3
- ✧ Overseas Chinese Network and China's International Trade, China Economy Press, 2015, ISBN978-7-5136-3949-1
- ✧ Pilot Free Trade Zones Construction and Development Strategy of China's International Trade in Culture Industry, Truth & Wisdom Press, 2016, ISBN978-7-5432-2640-1